Chambers & Partners has a team of more than 150 highly qualified, full-time researchers who identify and rank lawyers and law firms based on in-depth, objective research. During telephone interviews, people are asked to rank individual attorneys on qualities including technical legal ability, professional conduct, client service, commercial awareness, diligence, commitment and other characteristics most valued by clients.

"It is especially rewarding to receive this distinction from clients and fellow attorneys in our region. Client service is of the utmost importance to us and we are honored to be recognized in Chambers USA for providing superior value to our clients," said David Gilden, Managing Partner, Partridge Snow & Hahn LLP.
