Partridge Snow & Hahn Promote Three Attorneys to Counsel

Description

Partridge Snow & Hahn announces the promotion of attorneys David DiSegna, Daniel Marran, and Brian Reilly from Associate to Counsel.

David joined PSH in 2017. He is focused in the areas of public finance, commercial finance, intellectual property, and business law. David represents clients in various roles, including bond counsel, underwriter's or purchaser's counsel, and borrower's counsel. He has been involved in the issuance of over $3.5 billion in tax-exempt securities and provides specialized tax advice to governmental clients in connection with bond financings. David represents both lenders and borrowers in a variety of commercial finance transactions and represents businesses and non-profit entities in intellectual property matters, including trademark applications and maintenance.

Daniel is a litigator who has been with PSH for more than two years. He has represented clients across a broad range of complex matters, including class action and multi-district proceedings. Dan's past work includes defending a pharmaceutical manufacturer against claims brought under Sections 1 and 2 of the Sherman Act, relating to an alleged "product hop." He has also represented clients in contract disputes and cases arising under the Fair Credit Reporting Act.

Brian has been with PSH since 2016 and concentrates his practice on transactional matters, including mergers and acquisitions and general corporate and real estate matters. Brian frequently represents entrepreneurs and investors with respect to formation matters, contract negotiation and drafting, and capital raising matters. He also offers comprehensive, practical advice to clients on matters such as choice of entity and business organization, equity and debt financing, employee incentive compensation plans (equity and non-equity), shareholder/partnership agreements, leasing, licensing, employment, tax, and exit strategies and succession planning.
