Partridge Snow & Hahn Expands Bankruptcy and Restructuring Capabilities with Addition of Christopher M. Condon

Description

BOSTON, MA, October 28, 2026 – Partridge Snow & Hahn (PSH), a full-service business law and litigation firm, announces that Christopher M. Condon has joined the firm as a partner in its Litigation & Disputes practice group. With more than two decades of experience in bankruptcy, restructuring, insolvency, and complex financial disputes, Condon strengthens the firm's capabilities in advising businesses, lenders, and individuals navigating financial challenges and distressed transactions.

Condon represents debtors and creditors in a broad range of financial restructuring and commercial litigation matters, including bankruptcy proceedings, out-of-court workouts, refinancings, and borrower-lender disputes. His experience representing parties on both sides of complex financial matters provides valuable insight into the competing interests and practical considerations that drive negotiations and outcomes. He has advised clients across a range of industries, including biotechnology and medical devices, construction, and real estate.

"Chris brings deep experience in bankruptcy and restructuring that complements our existing litigation and business law capabilities," said PSH Co-Managing Partner Paul M. Kessimian. "His ability to navigate complex financial disputes from multiple perspectives strengthens the counsel we provide to clients facing challenging business circumstances. We are pleased to welcome him to the firm."

"I am excited to join Partridge Snow & Hahn and become part of a team known for its collaborative approach and strong reputation in business law and litigation," said Condon. "The firm's depth of experience across complementary practice areas creates valuable opportunities to serve clients facing complex financial and restructuring matters. I look forward to contributing to that work alongside my new colleagues."

Condon earned his J.D. from Boston University School of Law and a B.A. from Washington and Lee University. He is admitted to practice in Massachusetts, the U.S. District Court for the District of Massachusetts, and the U.S. Court of Appeals for the First Circuit.
