

PSH Partner Michael A. Gamboli to Present “Employment Law Implications of Changing Federal Landscape” Webinar

Description

PROVIDENCE, RI, May 20, 2025 – Partridge Snow & Hahn (PSH), a full-service business law and litigation firm, announces that Partner Michael A. Gamboli will present, “Employment Law Implications of Changing Federal Landscape,” on a webinar hosted by the Alliance for Nonprofit Impact at United Way of Rhode Island. The webinar, the second in a three-part series, takes place on Thursday, May 22 and provides a high-level overview of critical employment law considerations for nonprofits concerning hiring and termination. The discussion will emphasize how the changing federal landscape, especially regarding Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI), can impact these decisions. Gamboli will highlight how nonprofit organizations must proactively manage legal risks and promote equitable employment practices due to the current administration’s priorities, economic changes, and potential funding limitations. Registration is available here.

With over 30 years of experience, Gamboli focuses his legal expertise on the management side of employment law, advising and defending businesses on all aspects of human resources. He serves as a trusted partner and general counsel to clients across various industries, ensuring the effective delivery of the firm’s full range of legal services. Gamboli has extensive experience defending businesses in state and federal courts and administrative agencies against claims including discrimination, sexual harassment, whistleblower retaliation, misclassification, and wage and hour violations.

Launched in January 2024, the Alliance for Nonprofit Impact at United Way of Rhode Island is a place for nonprofit staff to connect with peers, to learn and grow professionally, and to access practical tools and resources to support the mission of nonprofits across the state. Created to be the voice of the nonprofit sector, to ensure that nonprofits have a seat at the table in the development of policy, legislation, and regulations affecting the sector and the communities they serve.
