

Three Partridge Snow & Hahn Attorneys Selected as Fellows of Rhode Island Bar Foundation

July 27, 2022

PS&H's Paul Kessimian, Christian Jenner, and Daniel Burgoyne were selected as Fellows of the Rhode Island Bar Foundation. They were recognized at the Foundation's annual luncheon on June 23, 2022. Each year, Fellows are selected by the Foundation's Board of Directors from those members of the Rhode Island Bar Association whose professional, public, and private careers have demonstrated their outstanding dedication to the welfare of the community and maintenance of the objectives of the Rhode Island Bar Foundation.

The Rhode Island Bar Foundation was founded in 1953 as non-profit, charitable foundation. Its charitable purposes include (i) to foster and maintain the honor and integrity of the profession of law, (ii) to study, improve and facilitate the administration of justice in Rhode Island, (iii) to promote the study of law, research therein and diffusion of knowledge thereof, (iv) to publish addresses, reports, treatises, and other literary works on legal subjects, and (v) to promote high standards of legal education.

The photograph of the 2022 class of Rhode Island Bar Fellows is provided courtesy of Rhode Island Bar Association and Tracy Jenkins Photography. Congratulations to Paul (top row, 2nd from left), Dan (bottom row, 1st on left), and Christian (bottom row, 2nd from left)!

<https://www.psh.com/three-partridge-snow-hahn-attorneys-selected-as-fellows-of-rhode-island-bar-foundation/>