

RI agency officials recommend more time for study for recreational marijuana bills

Heads of three RI state agencies have sent a letter to the RI House Judiciary Committee, supporting a bill that would create a 15 member study commission to make recommendations to the General Assembly about the legalization of recreational marijuana use by March 1, 2018. Bills to legalize marijuana use in RI have failed in each of the past six years.

Marijuana Business Daily covers the issue in more detail here.

Date Created

April 17, 2017