

PS&H Partner Paul Kessimian Speaks at National Center for State Courts Webinar

Paul Kessimian served as a panelist in the webinar, COVID-19 – Commercial Contract Litigation, hosted by the National Center for State Courts (NCSC) on July 20, 2020 regarding likely trends in commercial contract litigation in light of COVID-19.

Joining Paul as panelists were:

- Moderator: Judge Jennifer Bailey, Eleventh Judicial Circuit Court of Florida
- Speakers: Judge Christopher Yates, Michigan Business Court
- Professor John Chung, Roger Williams University School of Law

The panel discussed the COVID-19 pandemic and related stay-at-home orders potential effects on breach of contract actions concerning goods and services and reviewed contractual and UCC issues that judges could expect to find in such cases. The presentation can be viewed here.

The National Center for State Courts is the organization courts turn to for authoritative knowledge and information, because its efforts are directed by collaborative work with the Conference of Chief Justices, the Conference of State Court Administrators, and other associations of judicial leaders. To learn more about the NCSC and to see upcoming webinars, visit <https://www.ncsc.org>.

Date Created

July 20, 2020