

Marijuana Business Operations Seminar

Bill Moorman joins attorney and accountant colleagues to participate in a daylong education seminar on the ownership and operation of a marijuana business. State and federal compliance, real estate issues and tax implications are just a few of the topics that are discussed.

During his presentation, Bill discusses banking and financing issues for banks and marijuana businesses. Some of the issues he covers include banking laws and regulations, obtaining bank accounts, capital raising and financing issues, payment systems, handling cash, anti-money laundering policies, and managing growth. The target audience for the seminar includes marijuana industry participants, bankers and commercial lenders, accountants, and attorneys
