Starkweather & Shepley Insurance has partnered with East Boston Savings Bank, EMC Insurance, Partridge Snow & Hahn, and EJ Callahan & Associates to present a seminar discussing important trends for the construction industry in 2019. Everything from succession planning as boomers exit the industry and transition to the next generation, to recession planning and a potential downturn, how is your company prepared to handle some of the most pressing issues facing your industry in 2019. The liabilities associated with the work you're performing have never been greater. How can you properly insulate yourself from some of the industry's greatest exposures. And finally, as it relates to the labor shortage, what are some of the potential pitfalls subsequent ramifications associated with this issue, and what can you do to address it?

Panelists include:

Rob Barresi, VP – Construction Specialist – Starkweather & Shepley Insurance

David Byrne, SVP – Surety/Bond Manager – Starkweather & Shepley Insurance

John Migliozi, EVP – Commercial Lending – East Boston Savings Bank

Drew Colby, Partner – Partridge Snow & Hahn LLP

Chris Previte, Partner – EJ Callahan & Associates LLC
