

Partridge Snow & Hahn Quietly Grows: Adds 9 Attorneys During the Course of the Pandemic

It has been said that every challenge, every adversity, contains within it the seeds of opportunity and growth. The pandemic certainly presented hardship for individuals and businesses alike. During those challenging days, the attorneys at Partridge Snow & Hahn pulled together to help clients, colleagues and each other through long periods of isolation and the unknowns accompanying that time.

As we reflect over the last 2 years, we are pleased to find our firm thriving despite the difficulties. Our collective teamwork and the personal grit of each individual lawyer makes a difference for our clients. This particularly shines through the addition of the 9 attorneys who joined the firm between April 2020 and January 2022. We are proud to be home to all our attorneys who hold the needs of our clients at the very center of their practice despite the difficult times we all face together.

In celebration, please allow us to introduce these extraordinary individuals who joined our firm, starting with Suzanne Elovecky during the height of the pandemic, and most recently with the addition of Daniel C. Perry in early October.

Suzanne Elovecky is a litigator in the firm's Boston office who represents clients in a wide range of complex commercial litigation matters in the areas of business, real estate, intellectual property, labor & employment and insurance. Learn more about Suzanne.

Daniel Burgoyne is a litigator focusing on commercial litigation and insolvency. Based in the firm's Providence office, Dan represents banks and other lenders in bankruptcy and receivership proceedings, actions seeking affirmative recovery, defense of claims against lenders, and matters affecting lenders' collateral. Learn more about Dan.

Daniel Marran is a litigator representing clients across a broad range of industries in complex litigation and investigations. Based in the firm's New Bedford and Boston offices, Dan defends clients against claims brought under state and federal antitrust laws, the Fair Credit Reporting Act, federal securities law, and state product liability laws, among other statutes. Dan also handles class action lawsuits, multidistrict litigation, and parallel civil and criminal proceedings. Learn more about Dan.

Courtney Harris is a corporate attorney in the firm's Providence office. Courtney's practice encompasses business and transactional matters with a particular focus on mergers and acquisitions, financings, recapitalizations, joint ventures, and other commercial transactions. Learn more about Courtney.

Sarah Bierman is a corporate transactional attorney. Based in the firm's Boston office, Sarah focuses her work on general corporate matters including contracts, mergers and acquisitions, compliance and regulatory issues.

Neil Smola is a litigator in the firm's New Bedford office. Neil's practice is multi-faceted, spanning trusts & estates, business law, real estate and civil litigation. As an advisor to business owners and executives, Neil provides practical, effective legal strategies for both routine and complex business and real estate legal matters.

Daniel Perry is a well-respected real estate attorney. Based in the firm's New Bedford office, Dan focuses on real estate, land use and trusts & estates planning matters. Dan's practice focuses on the proponents of private and public development projects across southeastern Massachusetts. As a Trusts & Estates attorney, Dan helps individuals and their families curate estate plans that protect assets for future generations while taking advantage of the most current tax laws.

Hannah Amadei is a litigator based in the firm's Boston office. Hannah focuses her time on intellectual property and complex commercial matters across many different industries, including technology, life sciences and retail industries. Learn more about Hannah.

Loren Sutton is a corporate transactional attorney. Based in the firm's Boston office, Loren focuses his time on real estate projects ranging from single-family residential lots to large commercial developments. He negotiates, drafts and manages complex commercial real estate documents from commitment to closing. Learn more about Loren.

About the Firm

Founded over 30 years ago, Partridge Snow & Hahn is headquartered in Providence and also has offices in Boston and New Bedford. Our attorneys are strategic thinkers who listen intently, favor straightforward communication, and recognize when bold action is needed. Our well-respected attorneys bring extensive local and regional networks and direct knowledge across a wide range of practice areas including Business, Commercial Finance, Employment & Labor, Land Use, Litigation, and Real Estate.

Our attorneys are well-regarded and consistently recognized among the best attorneys by the legal industry's most prestigious listings including Chambers USA, Benchmark Litigation, US News & World Report Best Law Firms, and Best Lawyers in America. Regionally, our attorneys have been recognized for years by Providence Business News, Rhode Island Monthly, and Lawyers Weekly.

Date Created

March 8, 2022